With Tomb of Annihilation, we begin our newest Elder Dragon adventure cycle, with the story's origin, the Dragons' awakening, and the birth of Dragonspawn! Featuring 43 brand-new cards and 5 other cards from the graveyard, Tomb of Annihilation gives you a comprehensive collection of new mechanics and designs to meet every challenge. For this adventure cycle, we introduce a new, time-altering mechanic: Dragons. The Dragons' presence will change the state of the board from your perspective - expanding and contracting as they wish. In a new mechanic called "expansion", each Dragon moves a space closer to your Heroes. As the board is affected by this, you can place multiple Heroes on tiles and still resolve their abilities - so be careful how you place your Heroes. Another new mechanic is "revision", allowing you to gain a few cards from the graveyard in the next turn. It's time to revisit your opening hand, to see how you can gain the advantage in your next challenge. The "Ancients" are the elder Dragons' physical form. They were once Giants of the natural world, but the Ancients had "souls" that were transformed into Dragon souls, granting them a better form. These Dragon souls have come to be a power source for the Dragons, and they will turn on each other at a moment's notice! So that the Dragons' power can be harnessed and used, we have bound the Ancient Necropolis region with powerful artifact cards! The "Haunted" faction now governs this region - to call upon their powers, you can play them as "Hand of the Ancients" cards. Also, the action of "Shunned" means that the immediate action won't be played, and will be pulled back. If it is pulled back, it's added to your discard pile. So when you wish to play it later - who knows when it will be played? You may also choose to "Take the Throne" and play as the Ancients as "The Ancients", to take direct control of the board. Play it in different areas to influence the board! Once per turn, you can play the Dragons' action cards from the graveyard. Each card of the same cost has a different ability. Pick up the most powerful card at least once per turn and play it, to set the pace for your next challenge. This is the DCI Card Game. DCI means Game Center. Have fun and see you next time!
