Dennie Mackay Dennie Mackay (born 17 August 1979) is a Scottish former professional footballer, who was most recently manager of English League One club Coventry City. Mackay played as a defender and made over 200 appearances for Morton. He is the son of former Morton and St Mirren striker Neil Mackay. Career Born in Glasgow, Mackay came through the youth ranks at Morton and was an important part of the team that won both the First Division title and the 2000–01 Scottish Cup. In 2001 he was offered a two-year contract extension and following the departure of then club captain Roy Jackson he was given the captaincy of the club. Mackay was a key player at Southend United, where he played as a left-back and made 30 appearances in the Football League. Despite that, he was still not offered a contract with the Shrimpers in the summer of 2004 and joined Scunthorpe United on non-contract terms. While at Scunthorpe, his market value had shot up, partly due to his captaincy at Morton. He spent three months with Grimsby Town, but was released in August 2005. After leaving Grimsby, Mackay went on trial at Third Division side Plymouth Argyle where he impressed during a training session and was offered a two-year contract on 17 December 2005. Mackay established himself as a regular at Plymouth, making 55 appearances in all competitions, and was instrumental in the club's promotion to the Football League Championship. In 2007, Argyle honoured his services to the club by awarding him a testimonial against Burnley. He was named Supporters' Player of the Year for 2006-07. On 19 July 2008, it was announced that he would become a free agent at the end of the season having been informed that his contract would not be extended. Following his release from Argyle, Mackay joined Rotherham United on a two-year contract. He made 21 league appearances for the Millers, of which 19 were starts. Mackay was named as a substitute for the Championship playoff final but was not selected for the match, with manager Paul Raynalds deciding to go with Cauley Woodrow. Mackay joined another League One club, Gillingham, on loan for the remainder of the 2009-10 season. He made his debut for the club on 27 October 2009, in a 1–0
