Qualifications & Experience As a tutor, I've been teaching Russian online for about 2 years. During this time I've taught around 50 students - from beginners to advanced. Among my students I have had an American military pilot, an American embassy officer in Kazakhstan, dozens of college students, and others. I've gained some experience in diagnosing student problems and finding effective tactics to improve their skills. As a person who was trained a lot in voice and speech class during my studies in the Saint-Petersburg State Theater Arts Academy, I can also help you significantly improve your pronunciation. The alphabet and pronunciation rules. Training in reading, writing, listening, and oral expression, short dialogues and monologues on matters of everyday life. The teaching material is based on vocabulary and grammar requirements (covered in RUS301G: Russian Grammar I) at level A1. Special attention will be paid to pronunciation and intonation. The teaching is based on traditional teaching and interactive exercises. In the morning, my students receive home assignments, mark the assignments they are going to do with the exercises given and the general test guidelines, using the form that is available in the database. After that they study the materials set out by the teacher for the next subject for 2 hours and 40 minutes. After each subject they are expected to write an essay on a given theme for up to 30 minutes on the given homework. The students are also supposed to prepare for the homework exercises, as these exercises are specifically meant for homework. At the end of the session, the students sit a test. 5ec8ef588b
